AgriTalent Program Announcement

Coming September 15th! Growing Opportunities – Wage subsidy program for student placements

CAHRC is pleased to announce that the first of two innovative AgriTalent programs focussed on attracting post-secondary students to the agriculture industry will launch next week.

GROWING OPPORTUNITIES

CAHRC has partnered to deliver a Government of Canada funded Student Work Placement Program (SWPP) that will see post-secondary students matched with Work Integrated Learning placements in the agriculture field.

By hiring students, employers benefit from new perspectives and ideas and qualify for a subsidy of up to $7500 or 75% of wages. In addition, the expanded pool of candidates pulling from outside of traditional agriculture fields will draw in underrepresented groups such as women, Indigenous students, disabled students, and newcomers to Canada, encouraging them to look towards careers in our exciting industry.

Remember, agriculture is broad! Positions can be for just about any role so think outside the box when you plan what skills your operation needs.

As CAHRC Partners, you are encouraged to start planning now to take advantage of this opportunity. Full details and link to access the application portal will be shared ahead of the September 15, 2021 launch.

We strongly urge you to share this with your entire membership.

Canada

This program is funded as part of the Student Work Placement Program, Employment and Social Development Canada (ESDC)
